Instructions

Pretend the devil has hired you to create a new ad. People just aren't sinning like they used to, and the devil wants to get people on the wrong track again. Think of a sin the devil would love to see someone commit and create an ad that makes it look like a great idea. Include an attention-grabbing headline and an eye-catching illustration for your ad.

Instructions

For the second ad, you've received an assignment from heaven. God wants you to let others know there is a better way—God's way! Create an ad that lets people know about God's goodness and reminds them that although people may mess up, God never gives up! Include an attention-grabbing headline and an eye-catching illustration for your ad.

Learning Style Quiz for Kids (K-3)

Using a simple graph is a great way to quiz kids this age. On a chalkboard or large sheet of paper write the following headings, leaving space under each heading for kids to write their names:

- A. Be outside

- B. Sing and play music

- C. Do puzzles

- D. Play with friends

- E. Run, climb, pretend

- F. Read books and listen to stories

- G. Write in a journal

- H. Paint, draw, color

Read the different choices out loud with your group, and invite kids to come forward and write their names under the three things they like to do the most. After everyone has had a chance to respond, invite them to return and, using a different color marker, write their name beside one activity they dislike.

Compare their responses to the learning style descriptions each category represents (leader's guide, p 17) and you should have a pretty good idea of how each child in your class loves to learn.

Keep a copy of their answers for future reference.
